

If you've already voted in the municipal election, congratulations. You've added your voice to those of others in your community.

If you haven't voted yet, don't worry. There's still time.

Election day is Monday, October 24th. If you aren't sure exactly what to do, check the Ontario municipal elections page for an overview and some information. <https://www.ontario.ca/page/municipal-elections>

If you haven't voted yet, don't worry.

The 2022 Voters' Guide gives more specific information. <https://www.ontario.ca/document/2022-voters-guide-ontario-municipal-council-and-school-board-elections>

Each municipality has its own website. This list helps you find that website so you can see how and where to vote and how to ask for help. <https://www.ontario.ca/page/list-ontario-municipalities>

You've already been hearing quite a bit from candidates. For more information about what some of them have been saying and about some important issues and questions, you can check our website.

What's most important is to vote for the candidates who will make your city a place where you want to live – both now and in the future.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

- If you have questions, look for answers. Check what candidates have been saying about what's important to you.
- Think about what you want for your city and who can make that happen.
- Use your vote to speak up about what you want. Make your voice heard.

Ask, think, and then vote!
